Section 6: Important Information

How much will my early withdrawal be taxed?

We may be required to deduct tax from your financial hardship benefit. The tax payable will depend on the components of the benefit being released and your age. If you're age 60 or over, no tax is payable in relation to your financial hardship benefit. Generally, if you've reached your preservation age but are under age 60 and have not previously accessed your super, you're also not likely to pay any tax due to the low-rate cap applying to the amount.

If you have reached your preservation age but have used up your low-rate cap, or you are under preservation age, we must withhold tax at a rate of either 17% or 22% on the taxable component of your withdrawal. Your actual tax payable may be less than this, and if so, you may receive a refund of tax from the ATO after you lodge your tax return.

What is ATO early release of super on compassionate grounds?

If you do not qualify for early release of your superannuation benefits on the grounds of severe financial hardship, you may consider applying to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) for early release of some of your super on compassionate grounds. Compassionate grounds include needing money to pay for:

- medical treatment and medical transport for you or your dependant,
- palliative care for you or your dependant,
- making a payment on a home loan or council rates so you don't lose your home,
- accommodating a disability for you or your dependant,
- expenses associated with the death, funeral or burial of your dependant.

You can contact the ATO to check whether you are eligible. If you are, you can apply for release of benefits via MyGov. For further information, refer to the ATO website (www.ato.gov.au).
